ABOUT SYMPOSIUM

Globally, the energy sector is passing through a challenging phase, amidst growing consumption, stringent environment regulations, need of increase production within the same infrastructure and reduction in carbon emissions. In this regard, SEFCO-2017 will provide a forum for exchange of information, knowledge, experience and networking opportunities in the field of energy efficiency, energy conversion and technologies and alternate fuels. This will help to explore the upgrading sources of energy for future generations. The symposium provides a platform that enables the academicians, scientists, engineers, govt. organizations and researchers from energy sector for useful interactions and fruitful collaborations. It will provide interaction of pioneer of respective areas with youngster scientists/researcher through invited lectures and posters presentation.
